

Vehicle Survival Seminar [VSS]

This instructor-led 3-hour course is packed with real-world examples of how to prepare you and your staff for being stranded in the Canadian wilderness and to learn what to pack to ensure you are not miserable when stranded. This course is designed to better prepare you to dress properly for the eventuality of a vehicle survival situation. If you travel in or through the wilderness by vehicle you will eventually get stuck or break down so you need to be prepared to survive comfortably and this seminar will get you thinking in the right direction.

Why be miserable? Vehicle survival is overlooked by many who believe they are driving on remote wilderness roads, not into the wilderness. This fortress mentality relays solely on us never getting stuck, instead of preparing for that eventuality.

Preparation for a vehicle survival situation is different depending on where you travel and in what type of vehicle. Proper equipment choices make a bigger difference in small vehicles like quads and snowmobiles than in a large vehicle in which you can throw a duffel bag of survival gear into the back. What you pack into a vehicle is very important to your survival and comfort when you are trapped.

You can live comfortably through an unexpected vehicle survival situation if you are prepared and properly equipped. This seminar emphasizes; priorities of wilderness survival, dressing for the cold, how to light a fire, emergency shelter building, what critical survival items to carry in your vehicle, surviving comfortably in a vehicle, and getting found quickly.
